Designs of Distinction® to Showcase New & Featured Components at IWF 2026

Chicago, IL – Designs of Distinction® will exhibit at the International Woodworking Fair, showcasing new and featured products designed to help cabinet shops, millworkers, designers, and manufacturers build beyond straight lines. Visitors can find Designs of Distinction at Booth C1906, located in Building C, Level 1, near larger booths including Kronospan, Laminate Technologies, and Shelter Forest, and down the aisle from Blum and Häfele.

At IWF, Designs of Distinction will highlight new rounded and radiused components that support the growing demand for softened forms, curved silhouettes, and elevated interior details. These specialty components offer a practical solution for design details that can be difficult, time-consuming, or inefficient to fabricate at the shop level.

Featured new products will include radiused base shapes and radiused mouldings, both developed to help shops incorporate curved and softened design elements into cabinetry, islands, built-ins, and custom interiors. These components are ideal for projects requiring a more refined profile, rounded transitions, or visual continuity across custom millwork.

In addition to new rounded components, Designs of Distinction will feature a wide range of existing product solutions, including Cut-to-Size and Cut-to-Length Materials, Brass Foot Rail Kits and matching Bistro Shelving and Pot Rail kits, Metal Trim, Decorative Grilles, Tambour Panels, and other specialty materials for cabinetry and interior applications.

"IWF is an important opportunity to connect with the shops, manufacturers, and design professionals who are turning ideas into finished projects," said Kathy Constantine, Brand Founder of Designs of Distinction. "This year, we're especially excited to showcase components that help make complex details more approachable, from rounded forms and radiused profiles to custom-sized materials and decorative finishing touches."

Because IWF takes place every two years, the show offers visitors a valuable opportunity to see both new product introductions and established Designs of Distinction favorites in person. The booth will give attendees a closer look at materials, finishes, textures, and components that can help expand project capabilities without requiring every specialty detail to be produced in-house.

Designs of Distinction invites IWF attendees to visit Booth C1906 in Building C, Level 1 to explore new rounded and radiused components, discover featured product solutions, and discuss ways to incorporate specialty details into custom cabinetry, millwork, furniture, and interior projects.

About Designs of Distinction® Since 1998, Designs of Distinction® provides architectural components and decorative materials for cabinetry, furniture, millwork, and interior design. Its collection includes American-made hardwood components, tambour panels, decorative grilles, metal accents, brass accessories, and cut-to-size materials.
